The Collect
Give us grace, O Lord, to answer readily the call of our Savior Jesus Christ and proclaim to all people the Good News of his salvation, that we and the whole world may perceive the glory of his marvelous works; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

The First Lesson: Isaiah 9;1-4

Note: Zebulon and Naftali were two of the original tribes of Israel whose ancient territory was in the extreme north of the country. Invading armies, such as Assyria, often swept through these provinces. The prophet looks forward to the time that these areas will be liberated and restored to Israel.

There will be no gloom for those who were in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time he will make glorious the way of the sea, the land beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who lived in a land of deep darkness-- on them light has shined.

You have multiplied the nation, you have increased its joy; they rejoice before you as with joy at the harvest, as people exult when dividing plunder.

For the yoke of their burden, and the bar across their shoulders, the rod of their oppressor, you have broken as on the day of Midian.

Psalm 27:1, 5-13

Note: The very first verse of the psalm sets the tone, that with God as my light and salvation I will fear nothing.

1 The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom then shall I fear? * the LORD is the strength of my life; of whom then shall I be afraid?

5 One thing have I asked of the LORD; one thing I seek; * that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life;

6 To behold the fair beauty of the LORD * and to seek him in his temple.

7 For in the day of trouble he shall keep me safe in his shelter; * he shall hide me in the secrecy of his dwelling and set me high upon a rock.

8 Even now he lifts up my head * above my enemies round about me.

9 Therefore I will offer in his dwelling an oblation with sounds of great gladness; I will sing and make music to the LORD.

10 Hearken to my voice, O LORD, when I call; * have mercy on me and answer me.

11 You speak in my heart and say, "Seek my face." * Your face, LORD, will I seek.

12 Hide not your face from me, * nor turn away your servant in displeasure.

13 You have been my helper; cast me not away; * do not forsake me, O God of my salvation.

The Epistle: 1 Corinthians 1:10-18

Note: After the initial greeting and thanksgiving, Paul gets down to cases. Sure enough,, the church in Corinth is divided among different groups an cliques. Pau; will argue for the unity of Christ as the foundation for the work of the church.

Now I appeal to you, brothers and sisters, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you be in agreement and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same purpose. For it has been reported to me by Chloe’s people that there are quarrels among you, my brothers and sisters. What I mean is that each of you says, "I belong to Paul," or "I belong to Apollos," or "I belong to Cephas," or "I belong to Christ." Has Christ been divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, so that no one can say that you were baptized in my name. (I did baptize also the household of Stephanas; beyond that, I do not know whether I baptized anyone else.) For Christ did not send me to baptize but to proclaim the gospel, and not with eloquent wisdom, so that the cross of Christ might not be emptied of its power.

For the message about the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. healing.

The Gospel: Matthew 4:12-23

Note: Now that Jesus has been baptized and tested in the wilderness, he begins his ministry among the people in Galilee and the surrounding areas, gathering disciples, teaching, and bringing healing.

When Jesus heard that John had been arrested, he withdrew to Galilee. He left Nazareth and made his home in Capernaum by the sea, in the territory of Zebulun and Naphtali, so that what had been spoken through the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled:

“Land of Zebulun, land of Naphtali, on the road by the sea, across the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles— the people who sat in darkness have seen a great light, and for those who sat in the region and shadow of death light has dawned." From that time Jesus began to proclaim, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has come near."

As he walked by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea—for they were fishermen. And he said to them, "Follow me, and I will make you fish for people." Immediately they left their nets and followed him. As he went from there, he saw two other brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John, in the boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and he called them. Immediately they left the boat and their father, and followed him. Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the good news of the kingdom and curing every disease and every sickness among the people.

Jesus is Calling

This Sunday, in Matthew’s gospel, Jesus begins to collect his disciples along the shore of the Sea of Galilee. It is significant that his first recruits are fishermen. This reflects the geographical circumstances of the area. Jesus has chosen to go north of Jerusalem, but not to his hometown of Nazareth, but to Capernaum on the shore of Sea of Galilee, where there would be lots of fishermen.

He has gone there, we are told, not to flee those who had imprisoned John the Baptist, but because of prophecy by Isaiah. This area was a mixed Jewish-Gentile area because it had long history of foreign invasions. I was a place, Isiah indicated, in need of light, the light of God..

So, Jesus begins his ministry in a place of need by drawing on the local human resources available. He calls to them that he will make them “fishers of men.” In some ways this is an odd phrase if one imagines, as a human being, being hooked (or netted) the same way you might a reluctant trout.

What Jesus is talking about, of course, is drawing people into the Kingdom of God which he, as did John the Baptist, proclaimed as near at hand. What he may see in this cooperative group of hardworking fishermen focused and collaborating on a single task what we might call “transferable skills.” That something in the way they already fish can be used in this great Kingdom project.

All of us and each of us have a composite of life experiences which can be translated into skills and talents. And here today we find ourselves together in a particular geographical location with all of its needs and concerns as well ad its own resources. What Jesus ha done is drawn all of us into a company of many talents to discover, first, that our true identity are children of God and second, how can God use the life we have been given to be a light of compassion and love in this time and place.
